

NGO Innovation Hub: The roles of HKBU

- In the batches of 2021-2022 and 2022-2023 of the HSBC Hong Kong Community Partnership Programme, under the project of NGO Innovation Hub, HKBU will act as a strategic partner to perform the following roles
 - providing professional consultation
 - facilitating cross-learning among NGOs and different disciplines
 - fostering innovation to address complex social needs
 - conducting evaluation research study on effectiveness of intervention models

NGO Innovation Hub: The roles of HKBU

- For the 10 selected projects, HKBU will produce the following outputs
 - Advanced Workshops
 - Professional consultation in follow-up meetings between NGOs and volunteers
 - Professional consultation to projects (3 sessions for each project)
 - Four E-newsletters
 - Research study findings on effectiveness of intervention models

NGO Innovation Hub: Co-learning circle

- The co-learning circle between 10 selection projects will be formed through professional consultations, advanced workshops and follow-up meetings.
- The objective of the co-learning is to:
 - facilitate NGOs to foster innovation to address complex social needs by adopting community development practices;
 - facilitate cross-learning and collaboration among NGOs; &
 - facilitate NGOs to consolidate and disseminate the practice experiences and positive impact made.

NGO Innovation Hub: Evaluation research

Impact of the intervention will be measured according to key community development outcomes such as empowerment, social support, networking.

In addition to generic community development outcomes, measurements can be tailor-made for individual projects subject to the advice of the consultant and mutual consent of HKBU and projects.

Research methodologies: quantitative and qualitative

NGO Innovation Hub: Show cases of intervention models

- E-newsletters to be uploaded to HKCSS website of HSBC Hong Kong Community Partnership Programme
- Local seminars inviting projects to share at different stages
- International conference to show case to the international CD community about the diversity of effective practice
